

Transport Planning Support

Ryder provides valuable information to support your transport planning today and in the future as your business changes. We use a range of systems to independently assess and optimise your fleet and driver resource. From this assessment we can identify cost reductions to improve your distribution and deliver continuous improvement.

"Ryder have integrated all our sites, cross docking has brought major cost savings within our operation, vehicle fill has increased especially in remote areas."

Paul Conway, Warehouse Manager
keepingPremdormoving*

"Ryder plays a critical role in our business by managing our schedules in a flexible manner. This approach enables us to meet our customers needs at all times during both peaks and troughs. We have worked with Ryder for many years and have developed a close partnership during this time."

Brian Aram, Operations Director keepingDolphinBathroomsmoving*

Description

Transport Planning Support provides you with a range of information tools, to support you in making transport planning decisions:

- Tactically – support you with day-to-day transport decisions.
- Operationally – support you in optimising your resource planning.
- Strategically – support you in the long-term assessment of your fleet to maximise profitability.

Transport Planning Support includes:

- Reviewing your current routing and scheduling arrangements to assess the profitability of individual routes and orders.
- Managing your fleet and driver resource as efficiently as possible but allowing flexibility to meet your changing business needs.
- Running distribution networks across multiple sites and identifying opportunities to optimise resource across locations.

Key customer benefits

Cost effective – delivering cost reductions

- Deliver tangible reductions in your transportation costs, such as reducing fleet mileage by combining deliveries.
- Ongoing refinement of your routing and scheduling to deliver continuous improvement today and in the future.

Dedicated – focused on meeting your individual needs

- Working through your individual scenarios using the systems most closely suited to your needs.
- Investigate and understand the profitability of potential new routes to grow your business in the most cost effective way.

Efficiency – improving your resource utilisation

- An independent review of your fleet and driver resource to identify the optimum level for your business.
- Maximise the distribution efficiency of your delivery network resulting in quicker delivery times and improved service levels.

Why choose Ryder?

Expertise – An expert and independent view of the market to support your decision making.

Support – Ryder has a range of products to support your business as it changes.

Partnership – We will work with you to develop and grow your business cost effectively.

Ryder can also help you with:

Vehicles – We can offer a flexible vehicle solution to meet your exact needs.

Driver Management – We can supply you with a reliable driver team dedicated to meet your needs.

Flexible Warehousing – We offer a range of convenient and cost effective warehousing services, such as pre-retailing.

➤ get moving now

0800 100 200
www.ryder.com/europe
keepmemoving@ryder.com

keepingthingsmoving